LOCAL ANESTHETIC FACE AND NECK LIFT

Restoring a younger you with natural results

FACE AND NECK LIFT

Our key intention of a face and neck lift is to make the results look natural

THE PROCEDURE

The term face lift refers to a surgical procedure where the upper, middle or lower portions of the face and neck are repositioned to place the tissues under the skin closer to the location they were when the patient was younger. Our key intention for this procedure is to make results look natural.

In a proper lift, the direction of repositioning is more vertical than horizontal. It is the improper repositioning of the tissues

PATIENT COMFORT

At The Menkes Clinic, face lifts are performed under a local anesthetic. We sedate our patients, but we don't put them to sleep. Our top priority is to ensure our patients are comfortable and pain-free during the procedure. In addition our face lifting technique has minimal amount of post-operative discomfort.

Face and neck lifts have minimal bruising, swelling and downtime that makes patients look unnatural, giving them that "pulled-too-tight" appearance. Properly performed, our procedure will leave you looking youthful and rejuvenated with natural results.

THE INCISION

When properly placed, the incisions are almost invisible. Small scars are hidden within the contours of the ear and within the hair. After the procedure, some bruising and swelling can be expected, varying from person to person.

Face and neck lifts are performed under local anesthetic

LOCAL ANESTHETIC

With local anesthetic, the moment your surgery is completed, your body is beginning to heal. Here are some benefits of a local anesthetic:

- Enhanced safety
- Decreased bruising and swelling
- Rapid recovery with less downtime – with an average of 10-14 days
- Minimal post-operative discomfort

"I must say I was nervous when I first contemplated surgery. Would it hurt? Would I look afterwards like I'd had plastic surgery? The answer to the latter is "NO"; no one can tell anyone has done anything. Dr Menkes' work is careful and subtle. The results are very natural."
